

David Rae

Chief Operating Officer
Jetpets Animal Transport

David Rae is the Chief Operating Officer for Jetpets who works for the Owner and Managing Director Sandy Matheson.

David has held large complex People Leadership roles across varying industries. A great believer in talent and culture David's leadership centres around our team members having animal welfare at the heart of everything we do.

What makes this role so rewarding for David is his passion for animals and is known for taking on rescue dogs along with his two-permanent family members Pumba an English Staffordshire Terrier and Bosley a Golden Retriever.

David has been central to many major business turnarounds including:

- Major Supermarket turnaround recognised globally as a major success story
- Developed a strategic roadmap to land a major Supply Chain Transformation at a cost of $1.2 B over 5 years.

David holds a Diploma of Business and Post Graduate degrees in General Business Administration and Industrial Relations and Human Resources.
